11 JAMES H. CUNNINGHAM,) Civil No. 07cv2183-DMS (RBB)

16) (1) DENYING MOTION FOR STAY
17) AND ABEYANCE WITHOUT PREJUDICE
18) [DOC. NO. 12]; 19)
20) (2) REQUIRING ADDITIONAL 21) INFORMATION REGARDING 22) PETITIONER'S MOTION FOR LEGAL 23) COUNSEL [DOC. NO. 10]; AND 24)
25) (3) GRANTING MOTION TO FILE AN
26) AMENDED FEDERAL HABEAS
27) PLEADING [DOC. NO. 14] 28) 29)

30 Petitioner James H. Cunningham, a state prisoner proceeding 31 pro se and in forma pauperis, filed a Petition for Writ of Habeas 32 Corpus [doc. no. 1] on November 13, 2007. He also filed a Motion 33 for Stay and Abeyance of Federal Habeas Corpus Petition to Exhaust 34 Additional Unexhausted Claims in the State Courts [doc. no. 3], 35 which District Judge Dana M. Sabraw denied without prejudice on 36 November 27, 2007 [doc. no. 5]. On January 22, 2008, Petitioner 37 submitted a renewed Motion for Stay and Abeyance of Federal Habeas 38 Petition [doc. no. 12], which was filed nunc pro tunc to January 9,

1 2008. Cunningham concurrently filed a "Motion for Request of Legal 2 Counsel for the Incompetent" [doc. no. 10]. Petitioner also 3 submitted a Motion and Request to File an Amended Federal Habeas 4 Pleading with All Petitioner's Claims [doc. no. 14], which was 5 filed nunc pro tunc to February 8, 2008.

6 I. MOTION FOR STAY AND ABEYANCE

7 Petitioner has filed a second Motion for Stay and Abeyance 8 requesting that the Court hold his Petition in abeyance while he 9 returns to state court to exhaust newly-discovered claims. (Mot.
 10 for Stay 1.) Cunningham's previous Motion for Stay was denied 11 without prejudice on November 27, 2007, because Petitioner failed 12 to identify any potentially meritorious claims that had not been 13 exhausted. (Order Denying Mot. for Stay [doc. no. 5] 2.)
 14 Cunningham was informed that he could file a renewed motion, but it 15 must "identify which claim or claims he has not exhausted and 16 wishes to exhaust, and must set forth facts in an attempt to 17 demonstrate good cause for his failure to timely exhaust the state 18 court remedies with respect to any unexhausted claim." (Id. at 3.)

19 Petitioner's renewed Motion does not comply with the Court's 20 instructions. The Motion does not identify a specific claim that 21 Cunningham wishes to assert. Instead, the Motion merely contains a 22 list of legal terms and citations. (Mot. for Stay 2.) Petitioner 23 indicates that there are "newly-discovered trial errors . . .
 24 scattered about" the trial transcripts. (Id. at 3.) This is not 25 sufficient to warrant a stay of the pending habeas proceedings 26 because Cunningham has not identified any particular claim that has 27 not been exhausted in state court. Petitioner's Motion for Stay is 28 DENIED WITHOUT PREJUDICE. Cunningham may renew his Motion, if he

1 wishes, but the renewed motion must address the specific claim he 2 wishes to exhaust and his diligence in seeking to discover and 3 exhaust the claim.

4 II. MOTION FOR COMPETENCY HEARING

5 In his Motion for Legal Counsel, Cunningham asserts that he is 6 currently suffering from a serious mental and emotional illness, 7 for which he is prescribed medication, that renders him incompetent 8 to litigate his Petition. (Mot. for Legal Counsel 1, 4.) Although 9 he previously received legal assistance from a fellow inmate, the 10 inmate has been transferred out of the prison and can no longer 11 assist him. (Id.)

12 Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 17(c), the Court 13 "shall appoint a guardian ad litem for an . . . incompetent person 14 not otherwise represented in an action or shall make such other 15 order as it deems proper for the protection of the . . .
16 incompetent person." Fed. R. Civ. P. 17(c); see R. Governing 17 Habeas Corpus Cases 11 (stating that the rules of federal procedure 18 apply in habeas cases to the extent they are not inconsistent with 19 habeas corpus statutes or rules).

20 In Allen v. Calderon, 408 F.3d 1150 (9th Cir. 2005), the Ninth 21 Circuit held that where a pro se petitioner submits "substantial 22 evidence" of his incompetence, the district court should hold a 23 competency hearing to determine whether the petitioner is 24 "competent under an appropriate standard for habeas petitioners."
25 Allen, 408 F.3d at 1153-54. Although the Court did not specify 26 what constitutes "substantial evidence" of incompetence or what the 27 "appropriate standard" is, it gave some guidance.

28

1 In Allen, the petitioner submitted his own sworn declaration 2 and a declaration from a fellow inmate which stated that Allen was 3 mentally impaired and did not understand the court's orders. Id.
4 at 1151. He also submitted a letter from a prison psychiatrist
5 which stated that Allen was in the Enhanced Outpatient Program 6 ("EOP") at the prison, had been "diagnosed with Chronic 7 Undifferentiated Schizophrenia and [was] taking two psychotropic 8 medications." Id. at 1151-52. Allen filed a second declaration in 9 support of a motion for appointment of counsel in which he stated 10 that he suffered from a "'debilitating mental illness that requires 11 a course of treatment that includes the use of various psychotropic 12 medications'" and that the mental illness combined with the 13 medications "'severely [hinder] his ability to comprehend or 14 correctly respond to the determinations and Orders made by the 15 Court.'" Allen, 408 F.3d at 1152. The Ninth Circuit concluded 16 that this was sufficient to require the district court to make a 17 determination as to Allen's competency by appointing counsel and 18 conducting a competency hearing. Allen, 408 F.3d at 1153-54.

19 Attached to Cunningham's Motion are copies of his prison 20 medical records. (See id. Attach.) The records show that 21 Petitioner has received psychiatric care since he was incarcerated 22 in 2005. When he was evaluated on April 4, 2005, soon after he 23 began serving his sentence, he reported to the psychiatrist that he 24 had been taking psychotropic medications intermittently for eight 25 years. (Id. pt. 1, at 68-69.) He was diagnosed with a 26 nonspecified mood disorder and prescribed Prozac and Remeron. (Id.
27 at 69.)

28

1 Petitioner was seen by psychiatrists regularly thereafter. On 2 May 18, 2005, his doctor added a prescription for Seroquel. (Id.
3 at 66.) His prescription for Prozac was discontinued at some 4 point, and he was prescribed the antidepressant Wellbutrin in July 5 2006. (Id. pt. 3, at 17.) He continued with this medication
6 regimen and regular doctor visits throughout 2006. (See id. pt. 1, 7 at 10-15.)

8 Cunningham was evaluated on January 17, 2007, for a renewal of 9 his treatment plan. (Id. at 25.) He reported feeling depressed 10 and paranoid and having some suicidal thoughts and difficulty 11 sleeping. (Id. at 29.) Petitioner was diagnosed with a depressive 12 disorder and a nonspecific psychotic disorder. (Id. at 29, 70.) 13 The doctor prescribed Seroquel for the psychosis, Wellbutrin for 14 the depression, and Vistaril for insomnia. (Id. at 70.)

15 He continued with regular psychiatric visits throughout 2007.
16 (See id. pt. 2, at 14-28.) The last two visits for which the Court 17 has medical records were September 4, and October 16, 2007. (Id.
18 at 14-15.) On September 4, 2007, the doctor noted that Cunningham 19 was "overall, more relaxed, less paranoid" (Id. at 15.)
20 The doctor also noted that Petitioner was taking his medications as 21 prescribed. (Id.)

22 Cunningham returned to the doctor on October 16, 2007. (Id.
23 at 14.) At this visit he complained of depression and anxiety over 24 "legal stuff." (Id.) He was informed that the California 25 Department of Corrections was discontinuing the use of Wellbutrin 26 on November 1, 2007, so he would have to be prescribed a different 27 antidepressant medication. (Id.) Cunningham stated that he did 28 not want a different antidepressant. (Id.)

1 Because the Court does not have any records after October 16, 2 2007, it is unclear whether Petitioner is currently taking 3 antidepressant medication, what his current mental state is, or 4 whether he is currently suffering medication side effects that 5 hinder his ability to represent himself in this case. Cunningham 6 was due for another review and an update of his treatment plan on 7 January 17, 2008. (Id. pt. 1, at 70.)

8 At this point, Petitioner has not produced substantial 9 evidence of incompetence to warrant the Court conducting a 10 competency hearing. Although Cunningham has provided medical 11 records showing that he was diagnosed with a mental disorder, the 12 Court does not know the extent to which the disorder is currently 13 affecting him because the most recent medical records are missing.
14 Additionally, the evidence presented to the Court does not 15 demonstrate that Petitioner's mental condition impairs his ability 16 to understand the Court's orders or otherwise litigate his 17 Petition.

18 Accordingly, the Court ORDERS the following:

19 (1) Petitioner shall file a document titled "Additional 20 Information Re: Application for Guardian Ad Litem" with 21 accompanying declarations and exhibits no later than April 1, 2008.
22 Cunningham shall submit declarations and exhibits, if available, to 23 establish the following: (a) Petitioner currently suffers from a 24 mental illness, and (b) the mental illness prevents him from being 25 able to understand and respond to Court orders. The additional 26 information may include declarations signed under penalty of 27 perjury from Petitioner, medical personnel, and others having 28 personal knowledge of Petitioner's incompetence, in addition to 1 recent institutional medical and psychiatric records not yet

 2 provided to the Court.¹

3 (2) Respondent shall file a response to Petitioner's
 4 Additional Information Re: Application for Guardian Ad Litem no
 5 later than April 25, 2008. The response shall include the results
 6 of Respondent's independent investigation into Cunningham's 7 competence in addition to legal argument.

8 III. MOTION TO FILE AN AMENDED PLEADING

9 Petitioner filed a Motion and Request to File an Amended 10 Pleading [doc. no. 14] in which he requests the Court grant him an 11 extension of time in which to file an amended petition including 12 newly-discovered grounds for relief. (Mot. to Amend 1-2.)

13 Cunningham may amend his Petition once without leave of Court 14 at any time before Respondent files a responsive pleading. See 15 Fed. R. Civ. P. 15(a). Because Respondent has not yet filed an 16 answer, Petitioner may file an amended petition without seeking the 17 Court's permission. Accordingly, Cunningham's request for leave to 18 file an amended petition is denied as premature.

19 IT IS SO ORDERED.

 27 ¹ The Court acknowledges that gathering and submitting such additional information of incompetence may pose a challenge for Petitioner; however, Petitioner is required under Ninth Circuit law 28 to submit substantial evidence of incompetence before he is entitled to a competency determination. Allen, 408 F.3d at 1153.
